National Taxidermists Association News Release

The National Taxidermists Association is pleased to announce that Bob Dorta of Naples, Florida, has received certification at the national level in the category of Mammals and Fish taxidermy.

Your community can be proud of this accomplishment because only 105 taxidermists have been admitted nationwide into the program.

Mr. Dorta has distinguished himself through winning at taxidermy competitions and the desire to improve through educational workshops and seminars.

The National Taxidermists Association certification program is designed to recognize those taxidermists who have won awards for high quality standards in their work. It also offers sportsmen a standard by which they can select a qualified taxidermist. Those taxidermists who have passed the qualifying procedure have exclusive use of a specially designed certification emblem for their use.

The above information released by National Taxidermists Association Headquarters, 108 Branch Drive, Slidell, Louisiana 70461.
